The International Conference on Eco-Environment & Health is committed to integrating the knowledge of ecology, environmental science, public health, toxicology, medicine, and other disciplines to explore the ecological impacts and health effects of environmental pollution. The Conference also aims to promote inter-disciplinary cooperation in environmental problem solving to cope with global threats and challenges. ICEEH 2024 welcomes researchers from the community of eco-environment and health around the globe and will serve as a platform for knowledge sharing, networking, and reinforcing cooperation. Further information on our Conference can be found at: <https://www.iceeh.org.cn/En/Default>.

Should you have any inquiries on the application for an entrance permit or a visa to come to Hong Kong for this Conference, please contact us at civevent@hku.hk. We look forward to meeting you at the Conference.

Yours sincerely,
